

INTERPERSONAL PROTECTIVE ORDERS: KENTUCKY'S NEW TOOL TO PROTECT SURVIVORS OF DATING VIOLENCE, STALKING, AND SEXUAL ASSAULT

What Schools, Universities, and Other Community Professionals Need to Know

During FY 2017, the Kentucky Coalition Against Domestic Violence, the Kentucky Association of Sexual Assault Programs, and the Office for Policy Studies on Violence Against Women at the University of Kentucky will provide five community trainings focusing on the new Interpersonal Protective Orders (IPOs) that are now available in cases of dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking. The trainings will review the size of the problems of dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking, and specifically how they impact teens and college students. Title IX will also be discussed. Finally, the new statute on IPOs will be explained in detail, including the process by which victims can access IPOs, and the roles of schools and universities.

Presented By

Kentucky Coalition
Against Domestic Violence
KCADV

Funded by a grant from the

TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES

DATES AND LOCATIONS

September 12, 2016
Elizabethtown Police Department
300 South Mulberry, Elizabethtown KY

November 29, 2016
Marriott Griffin Gate Hotel
1800 Newtown Pike, Lexington KY

Upcoming Locations:

Prestonsburg, Date and Location to be announced
Hopkinsville, Date and Location to be announced
Covington, Date and Location to be announced

TRAINING DETAILS

Hours: 9 AM - 4 PM

Lunch (provided)

Cost: FREE

Continuing Education: EILA approved for schools, CLEs pending

Registration

To register, please visit:

<https://goo.gl/forms/xMQgRhzbzvBUNZpqX2>

Questions

If you have any questions regarding the training, please contact:

Meg Savage, Kentucky Coalition Against Domestic Violence, msavage@kcadv.org

Carol E. Jordan, Office for Policy Studies on Violence Against Women, University of Kentucky, carol.jordan@uky.edu

Laela Kashan, Kentucky Association of Sexual Assault Programs, lkashan@kasap.org